Please share your experience or a loved one's when using the First Response Medical Alert.

I have been using the First Response medical alert system for over a year now. I just recently needed to use it after I fell getting out of my bath tub. I wear the button around my neck in case of an accident like this. I pushed the button and within 30 seconds I was speaking with the operator, they dispatched EMS and contacted my family for me. If I didn't have the help button I might have been there for days.
